February 19, 2018-First eLearning Day eLearning Day

What is eLearning?

eLearning is learning to utilize electronic technologies to access educational curriculum outside of the traditional classroom. Linton-Stockton School Corporation believes that continuity of instruction in the event of the loss of an instructional day, due to weather or other circumstances, is a critical component to our students' success.

What is an eLearning Day?

A "Planned" eLearning day, is a day planned by the school corporation in advance. Students will be doing their school work at home while teachers will be at school participating in professional development. Students are able to contact their classroom teachers through the internet.

An "Emergency" eLearning day occurs when there's inclement weather. Instead of declaring a "snow day," the students will have an eLearning Day. This is a day that students will stay at home and do school work assigned to them through the internet. All assignments will be posted by 9 AM. Students will be able to contact their teachers through the internet.

What will an eLearning day look like for students?

All staff and students in our district access and utilize Google Classroom in addition to other digital media, to complete assignments and lessons. On eLearning days, students will access assignments from their teachers through their Google Classrooms just as they would normally do while present at school. All lessons and assignments will be posted by 9:00 a.m. and will be a continuation of the previous day's instruction. All teachers will be available during the school day hours for students to contact and ask questions should they need additional assistance. In addition, the technology staff will be available for assistance. Students who do not have internet access at home can go to the public library or a local business around town. Students will have 3 days to complete assignments and will have the opportunity to use the school's internet when needed for elearning day materials during the regular school day.

What days will be utilized as eLearning days for the 2017-2018 school year?

The first planned day will be on February 19, 2018.

Because this is a scheduled day, teachers and students will have plenty of notice and time to plan.

Can my student come to school on a planned eLearning day?

In advance, a parent or guardian must call the school's secretary or complete the form on the school's website to schedule them to attend school on the planned eLearning day. All students who come to school this day will be monitored in the High School Auditoria. We will run a bus route and pick up the students who have been scheduled to attend that day. We will also serve breakfast and lunch to those students who are scheduled. If students only come for a few hours they will need to be signed out by a parent or guardian.
